Nurse Notes

Just a reminder since we have a few classes with Lice, please encourage your children not to share hats, coats, or other hair items. We recommend for girls with longer hair to wear their hair tied back in a ponytail or bun for the next few weeks.

Words of Wellness

As the flu season has not peaked yet, please remember the best line of defense is handwashing! Remind your children not to share drinks and cover their cough! Spring will be here soon!

I have been noticing there are quite of few students coming to the computer lab without headphones. This makes it difficult to work on the computer, iPad, or chrome book without headphones. I understand that things happen to them during the day and it may take a day or two to replace them, but it seems it has been the same students coming to school unprepared. We do have a few extra pairs in the lab for students to borrow in emergencies, but some days I do not have enough for everyone. Please check with your children to make sure they have a working pair at school.

Thank you,
Mrs. Duda

Families can rest and relax with our many programs that encourage respite by providing activities for all family members. Respite time is often overlooked in our busy families' lives, yet play - or relaxation time - is a critical component to a happy, healthy lifestyle. We provide the ways and means for families to relax through parents' nights/days out, teen programs and adult programs.

We provide necessary physical care and recreational activities while offering parents and caregivers a well-deserved break.
