Nurse's Notes

Here we are into the last few weeks of April and we all know how fast May flies! Just looking ahead... if you have brought in medication for your child over the school year and plan to pick that up please check in with us over the next few weeks. Some medications have to be here until the last day, but knowing how busy May gets for all of us I thought it would be good to start the reminder now!! Enjoy the sun for today, I think snow returns tomorrow!!
